RYE AND RAPE CATCH CROPS

Brown Just Before Cultivating Corn Last Time in July—Value as Fertilizer $6 Per Acre.

By J. N. CLOVER, Peoria, Ill.
Of the crops which I sowed ahead of the cultivator at the last cultivation of corn and potatoes to get a growth to turn under in the spring, and to protect the land from winter washing, rye and Dwarf Essex rape were most satisfactory.

Rye was sown one year when the potatoes were taken out in September, and a heavy crop made it turn under for oats in April.

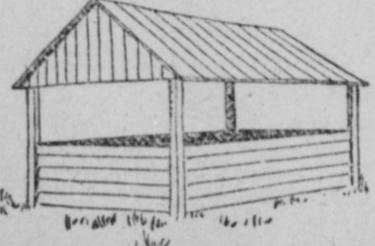

Another year rye was sown on corn stubble after the corn was cut at the rate of one and one-quarter bushels per acre, and it made a fair cover crop, which I know prevented washing, though the ground was harrowed only twice before drilling in the seed.

I should judge its value as a fertilizer at about six dollars per acre, and the cost only seven cents per pound. Some of the raps was green all winter, and persons seeing the growth it had made in the stand-bying corn were surprised, while the growth of cowpeas in the same field was not encouraging. Crimson clover is a good catch crop, if one can secure a stand, and it lives through the winter. Rape is the best crop for me, considering the cost of seed and its fertilizing value, and rye is very good, especially when it is to be turned under for potatoes, or one wishes to pasture it in the fall.

SHED FOR STORING MANURE

Cheap Shelter Prevents Leaching Where Not Convenient to Haul Fertilizer to Fields.

Manure is one of the most important things on a first-class farm. How-to the most of it is out of the question.

The illustration shows a shed 8x10 with sides 7 feet high and the corners 7 feet to the eaves. The end boards are held in place with stakes at two corners so that one side is movable and may be left out until the shed is partly filled. The shed prevents leaching where it is not convenient to haul it to the field immediately after it is made.

Pieplant Easy to Grow. Pieplant is easily produced in a commercial way, yields immensely, and is easily gathered and put into shape for the market. It can be shipped almost any distance. Then, too, the demand for it on the market makes it one of the best vegetables for commercial use. Pieplant is usually set in rows four feet apart and two and one-half feet in the rows. Like asparagus it should be carefully tended and heavily manured. It should be fertilized every winter.

Will Return Profit. The preparation for conserving barnyard manure entails some expense and labor but all such expenditures will return a margin of profit commensurate with the outlay.

The necessity of the silo is highly apparent.

Have you provided a green crop for July and August?

Plants cannot penetrate or feed in a cold, compact soil.

Do not fail to drain your soil; it will pay you for your toil.

If clover's sickly, put on lime; that will bring the soil to time.

Growing corn much water needs; keep a soil mulch; kill the weeds.

Proper re-enforcement is an important item in successful concrete work.

Club root of cabbage is one of the most annoying yet easily controlled diseases.

Watch sweet clover. It begins to look as if it had a very valuable place among our farm crops.

A lawn mower will be found about the premises of the farmer who cares about his surroundings.

The question of farm power and farm transportation is one of the most important questions connected with farming.

Dig up grain plants and you will find that they form their roots at the same depth whether planted deep or shallow.

To be on the safe side, cabbage plants should be started in soil which has not been previously used for cabbage culture.

Scrubby potatoes aren't fit to plant.

The rapid growth and hardness of the willow makes it almost invaluable on many farms.

Every tiller of the soil should see to it that every particle of home products is utilized to the best advantage and the residue returned to the soil.

STEEL MONSTERS CRASH HEAD ON

THRILLING SPECTACLE PROMISED FOR VISITORS AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

COLD SHIVERS A PLENTY

Two Monster Steel Steam Engines Dash to Certain Destruction in Full View of Spectators.

Seldom is it that any community is afforded an opportunity to witness such an ambitious and thrilling performance as is promised the crowds in attendance at the Kentucky State Fair on Saturday, September 16, when the spectacle is provided of two monster steam engines, started under a full head of steam, and permitted to crash head-on in full view of the spectators. A sight such as this is sufficient to cause the most stolid of persons, he with the nerves of steel, to involuntarily shudder and flinch at the collision occurs.

The hiss of escaping steam, the bursting of the great boilers, the rending of the formidable iron parts, the tearing and crashing and grinding of twisted masses of steel are even inspiring in the terrible force which accompanies them.

The sight of the two mountains of machinery rushing headlong into each other's embrace is sufficient to freeze the blood in one's veins, and send shivers of fear rushing up and down the spinal columns, despite the knowledge that there is no personal danger.

The sensations resulting are intense but it is such as these that the human family is seeking to-day, and no more spectacular offering could be provided to satisfy the ever present desire for something out of the ordinary.

The engines are placed on opposite ends of a track built especially for the purpose. The fires are started, the steam is produced, the throttles are thrown open, and the two monsters are started to physical destruction by engineers who leap to safety before the impact comes.

PREMIUM LIST FOR CREAMERY BUTTER

NEW DEPARTURE FOR KEN- TO MAKE HIT.

Nursery cultivation is proving not only one of the most fascinating of studies in the rural sections of Kentucky but it also is developing into one of commercial importance which is taking high rank. To those interested it will be good news to learn that the Kentucky State Fair management has decided to offer tempting premiums for nursery displays in connection with plant and flower departments.

This is another of the entirely new departures which have been decided upon for the big Kentucky State Fair of 1911. It is along the lines of progress and improvement which make certain that the Kentucky State Fair not only will maintain its lead in the south but that it will take its rightful place among the great state exhibitions of Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and others to the north.

DOC COOK is one among the few who can come back; he is again popular as a Chautauqua lecturer.

It might be putting it a little too strong to state that there is a good roads "movement" in Kentucky, but there is an impulse, anyway, and all movements must have a beginning.

RECENT developments indicate that congressmen are the greatest jokers in the country. Some of them have been known in that line from the stories they tell, but in the laws that were enacted at the last session it is evident that all members are jokers.

ON September 11 the campaign in Maine on the resubmission of the prohibition clause of the State constitution will be brought to a close. The campaign is said to have been a hot one, and is getting hotter. A great deal of contraband whisky has come into Maine during the past twenty seven years, notwithstanding constitutional prohibition, and this has probably brought up the temperature. It is scarcely possible that an issue of cold water alone could have cost so much fervor.

ANTICIPATING a shortage in meat supply owing to the persistent summer heat and short growing season areas, the produce gamblers are putting beef, eggs, poultry and other perishable food supplies in cold storage with a view to later extortions. If the Laurier Government shall be sustained in its fight for the ratification of the Reciprocity agreement, as now seems probable, something substantial will have been accomplished to enlarge our sources of cheap supply and thus save us from the grip of our own concomitants.

THE world do move. A State prison is in process of construction at Joliet, Illinois, so arranged that every cell will have a window facing the outside world. There will be open bars in the front of each cell, so that one guard can see each man in an entire block. Sanitary conditions are to be the best that can be found anywhere, with the old style slop bucket system entirely done away with. Cells will have plenty of good air and water and plenty of light and will be cleanly, thus practically eliminating the dangers of tuberculosis or other diseases contracted through the dampness of an ordinary cell. Not only inside comfort for prisoners is to be considered, but provision is to be made for outside employment for convicts at farm work with a view to self-support as well as improved health conditions.

PENNSYLVANIA and New York farmers are interested in a proposal to form an organization through which they will be able to deal more directly with consumers, save the profits of middle men and reduce the cost of high living. It is estimated that the farmer gets less than 45 cents out of every dollar paid for farm products by the ultimate consumer; and to bring the latter in more direct relations with the former would manifestly be to the advantage of both. The organizers of this movement seem to have in mind the establishment of distributing stations. Little information in the farmers' expense bill is undoubtedly that which represents the cost of transportation. The cost of wagon transportation in the United States is estimated to be $1,600,000,000 a year, and probably more than one half of this represents the hauling of farm produce. The establishment of a postal express system would solve the greater part of the problem of farm transportation from said."

farm to city, and would enable every farmer to become his own distributing agent.

THE indefatigable chief of the Bureau of statistics in the department of commerce and labor, Mr. O. P. Austin, has begun the issue of a monthly bulletin giving the sailing dates of ships from ports of the United States to ports in foreign countries the bulletin for September is already issued. As the export trade of the United States now exceeds two million dollars and the import trade approaches two billions, Mr. Austin truly regards the issue of this monthly as of much importance to all American citizens who are engaged in foreign commerce. Merchants desiring the bulletin have only to make application to the bureau.

MIGRATION from United States to Canada appears to be steadily growing during the last month 11,012 American citizens crossed the border to make their future homes in the Dominion. In the period from April 1st year to February this year the migration to Canada is estimated at 270,000 settlers, of whom 211,000 were from the United States and Great Britain. The remaining 59,000 were mostly from Holland, Denmark, Germany and Scandinavia. In the great wheat region of Northern Canada there is a restless attraction.

Notice for Pavement Bids.

The City Council of the City of Greenville will until Wednesday noon, Sept. 13th, 1911 receive sealed bids for the construction of concrete sidewalks in front of the property of W. L. Phillips, on the east side of Main Street, in the city of Greenville, for the distance of 21 1-2 feet and on the west side of said street, beginning at Russell Alley, in front of the property of J. R. Mayhugh, 25 feet, and of the property of T. C. O'Bryan, 82 1-2 feet, to the property of J. W. Lam, et al. Sidewalks shall be constructed of good and substantial concrete, done in a workmanlike manner, of the material, dimensions and in the manner provided by the ordinance approved July 11, 1910 and by the provisions of other ordinances relating thereto. Persons entering into a contract for the construction of said walks will be required to make bond for the faithful performance of the same, and the costs of said construction will constitute a lien on the abutting property as is provided by law.

This, Sept. 5th, 1911.
Orien L. ROARK, Clerk,
By order of the council.

Eugene Watkins and Will Kyle were pretty seriously bruised and shaken up Monday night when a horse attached to a buggy in which they were riding became scared at a train and ran away, pitching both of them out and dragging them. They were at the Lovell crossing, near Luzerne, and a passing train frightened the horse, and he dashed down the track, soon upsetting the vehicle. Neither of the men were seriously hurt, and the buggy can be repaired.

Mr. S. J. Landes, city assessor, is very busily engaged in taking the property lists of our citizens, and is making good headway with his work.

There are rumors of a secret wedding, to be announced soon, "it is said."

The Railroad Situation.

There is no disposition on the part of the railroad employees who are seeking higher wages and better labor conditions to rush matters. Their representatives are discussing quietly with the representatives of the roads and questions at issue. As neither side wants war and as each probably is prepared to concede something when it comes to a pinch the conferences now being held should have a satisfactory ending.

The railroads assuredly do not want a strike. They understand the extent to which it would interfere with the discharge of their duties to the public. Compliance with the wage demands might not cost so much as the loss of revenue which a strike lasting anytime might entail.

The fact that the employees are moving slowly and deliberately is good evidence that they know what a strike would mean. Their officers, mostly old and experienced men, know that this is not the time to win an easy victory by quitting work. The fact that the railroads of this country have laid off 80,000 men in a year shows that there is a great volume of unemployed railroad labor which the roads could draw on. When there are so many lay offs the man who can keep his job and old wages is not so badly off.

It cannot be unknown to railroad employees that while the wages of men in many industries were reduced after the panic of 1907, theirs was not. Since then there have been general increases. The roads have not fared well. They have not been allowed to raise rates and have had to submit to cuts. So this is hardly the time for employees to insist permanently on material concessions. If they were working for a manufacturing company they would not.

The fact that this is such an unpropitious time for a strike is a strong reason for believing that there will not be one. There are other reasons, among them the good temper and willingness to meet and discuss of both sides.

There are early predictions of frost by people who believe in the katydid, but the general belief is that we will have several weeks yet of warm weather.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissue. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most usual uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pill lets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

Modern Circus Methods.

Two merchants were talking a few days ago, when the subject of circus advertising was mentioned. One of the gentlemen made the point of savings affected by shows now, compared with a quarter of a century ago.

Especially is this noticeable in advertising. Then the circus folks would have billboards constructed, and the larger ones would enclose court house squares with boards twelve feet high, at a cost of $200 to $500, and with the most elaborate "paper" covering it.

This expense is now a mere trifle, as dead walls are covered for a few tickets to the show, and no money outlay.

The price of admission is the same, tents are larger, with increased seating capacity, and the revenues are therefore heavier. Transportation is more costly, food for men, horses and animals is higher, wages higher, etc., so that circus investments, like all other things, a reduction on one line is of no benefit, as along others it is offset.

See L. Isaacson's ad. and meet him here next Wednesday, as he will have a wide variety of goods to offer at auction.

Big Day for Everybody.

The biggest day of amusement in the history of Greenville will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 13.

This will be the occasion of the visit of the famous Sun Brothers' world's Progressive Shows. This popular tented exhibition is now on its twentieth annual tour and the association is made by the Sun management.

The show is richer and newer in all departments.

Each succeeding season a new company of artists are engaged for the Big Top performance. This season all previous efforts are eclipsed. The Zoologic and Wild Beast display is a mammoth one and serves to introduce the greatest and most select collection seen here in a decade.

No fakirs, gamblers or purple attractions are ever countenanced about this show. It is essentially the purest and cleanest conducted show ever organized. Two performances take place daily, in rainy or fair weather. Positively no curtain call.

The committee soliciting homes for the conference delegates has been actively at work this week, and has met with universal gratifying response from our people. Many persons have taken a half dozen delegates, and quartets have been even more popular; nothing less than two have been taken by anyone, and it is assured that homes will be found for all our visitors.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The regular term of the Muhlenberg circuit court convened here Monday afternoon, Judge Wm. P. Sandige on the bench, and district attorney Randolph Mallory representing the commonwealth. The criminal docket is a rather long one, but all for minor offenses, the special term having been devoted to felony cases. The grand jury is at work, and the members of the petit jury are being kept busy on the commonwealth docket, turning out many decisions, and convictions are numerous, as follows:

Boy Robinson, $100 fine for violating local option law.

C. W. Wells sold liquor to a minor, and drew a fine of $100.

Elli Matheny and Levi Foster were each fined $30 for breach of the peace.

Shelley Wickliffe, for shooting in sudden heat and passion, was assessed a $50 fine.

Dora Gossett, John Bradley and Owen Bratcher received $20 fine, each for breach of the peace.

John Gains lost $60 by violating the local option law, that being his fine.

Harvey Kitchenor disturbed the peace to the value of $40.

Ed Noffsinger, for assault and battery, was adjudged indented to the state to the extent of $50.

The attendance has been very light, as farmers are busy, mines have resumed active operations, and the cases of a minor nature, holding the crowds down.

Graded School Opens.

The Greenville Graded School opened Monday with the largest enrollment in its history.

Several rooms were crowded to overflowing.

Besides the large number of pupils present there were more than fifty patrons present.

More pupils were enrolled the first morning than were enrolled the entire first month last year, the enrollment being 346.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Dillon, after which ringing speeches of exhortation and advice were given by Dr. Henderson, Judge Sparks and W. O. Belcher.

Instead of the interest of the pupils and patrons lagging, there seems to be a steady growth of interest and appreciation.

The method of instruction in the High School will be changed the coming year to what is known as departmental work; Miss Curd having English and History, Mr. Moseley, Latin, German and Mathematics; Mr. Hayden, History and Science.

This method of instruction has proven most beneficial in other schools and we predict a marked improvement in the quality of work done under the method.

Light and Water Co. Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Greenville Light & Water Co. was held in the county court room Monday night, and most of the stockholders were represented.

The report of Manager Gilman was read and discussed, and the affairs of the company are in a growing and satisfactory condition.

There was no dividend declared, the directors deeming it best to use the profits in extensions to the plant, and in acquiring an office building, which has just been completed.

After serving the company four years Mr. W. G. Duncan resigned as president, and to that position Mr. W. A. Wickliffe was elected.

Mr. L. W. Irvin being chosen vice president and Mr. J. A. Gilman retained as manager, while the board of directors was likewise retained.

The business is being steadily developed, and the service is the best that can be provided, the benefits of this concern to the city and surrounding country being very great, and while the stockholders are getting small returns on the investment, the worth of the property is being enhanced.

POPE WILL NOT LEAVE ROME

Paris Paper Says It Is Folly to Believe His Holiness Will Move to Lourdes.

Apropos of the celebrations attending the fiftieth anniversary of Italian independence there is again, it is said, some talk that Pope Pius X. may leave Rome and install himself at Lourdes, the most pronouncedly Catholic community, perhaps, in France.

Commenting on this, Le Cri de Paris says that it is folly to believe that his holiness has ever seriously entertained the project of quitting the Eternal City, and still less that of establishing himself upon the territory of the French republic. "The only time," says Le Cri, "that the papacy thought to come to French soil as in the days of the popes at Avignon was immediately following the occupation of Rome by the Italians. After the election of October 2, 1870, which assured the union of Rome with united Italy, Pius IX. thought he could no longer remain in his ancient capital. Vlencini, then the physician of the papal hospital, suggested to the pope that he install himself in Corsica, a country of the Italian tongue, and was placed to permit his holiness to observe the Caille agitation in the island. This project pleased the pope greatly and he entered into negotiations with the French government. Monsieur Thiers declared himself favorable to the project, but Cardinal Antonelli opposed it and had sufficient influence with Pius IX. to have him resolve to remain a prisoner in the vatican. After this Bismarck offered Pius IX. an asylum at Cologne, and still later the pope's household formed the project of installing him in the Azores."

WHEN JOHNSON HELPED FRYE

New Maine Senator Was Hotel Clerk and Found Quarters for the Statesman.

When Senator Charlie Johnson of Maine took the arm of his feeble Republican colleague the other day in the senate and marched up to the clerk's desk there was in his mind the thought of another meeting between them years ago, the new Democratic senator told about it afterward when seated in his large office across the way from the Capitol.

In his earlier days just as he was getting through college Johnson taught school. He was home from a term of teaching and over at Waterville met Jim Withee of the old Elmwood hotel.

"Want a job, Charlie?" said Jim.

"I certainly do," was the reply. "Well, I need a night clerk at the Elmwood. Come over and try it, which the future senator did. He had been on the job but a few days when the late evening train brought a crowd of guests. Some pushed to the front and got the best available rooms, and when William P. Frye signed his name there were no good quarters left."

"Awfully sorry, senator," said Night Clerk Charlie Johnson. "We have no rooms such as you ought to have. There's a suite, however, which we keep reserved for the proprietor of the woolen mills. I believe I'll take a chance on putting you in there."

And so it came about that the future Democratic senator from Maine gave his future Republican colleague the best quarters in the house.—Boston Herald.

Mapple a Thieves' Accomplice.
Six thieves and a mapple have been run in by the Paris police. The bird, true to its instinct, was an active member of the gang. It did not purloin on its own account but its help was invaluable. The six thieves, all under sixteen, chose a sufficiently simple-minded tradesman, and entered his shop. The bird was perched on the wrist of one of the boys, and did tricks, bowed, danced, and chattered. The ingenuous shopkeeper was amused. Suddenly the mapple flew up and perched near the ceiling, out of reach. The boys and the shopkeeper started hunting for the bird—not all the boys, however, for one of them stopped behind, near the till, and emptied it. A whistle called the bird down, and bird and boys were off with their booty. The game seems to have succeeded upon only one trusting tradesman before the gang, including the mapple, was captured.

Thackeray's Talented Daughter.
The centenary of the birth of William Makepeace Thackeray, the great novelist, will occur on July 18. Even if there should be no formal observance of the event we will pass a moment on that date, and do honor to the memory of the author of "Pendennis." If there should be any public observance in England of the centenary it is probable that Lady Ritchie would take a considerable part.

Lady Ritchie—Anne Isabelle Thackeray—the great novelist's daughter, has made a name for herself by her own abilities. She married her cousin, Mr. Richmond Thackeray Ritchie, in 1877, and is now known as Lady Ritchie.

In a great measure she inherited her talents from her father. She has done considerable writing, "The Village on the Chaff" and "Old Kensington" being considered by many as her best works.

A Surplus of Presence.
"Isn't Pikes a patient fellow, though?"

"Yes, indeed. He'll spend half the morning explaining something to you which you haven't the slightest desire to know."

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Raised Me From the Grave"—Mrs. Taylor

This is a strong statement to make, but it is exactly what Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of Blum, Texas, said in expressing her opinion of this remedy.

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine raised me from the grave and I have much confidence in it. I can never say enough for your grand medicine. If anyone had offered me $100.00 for the second bottle of Nervine that I used I would have said 'no indeed!'"

MRS. THOMAS TAYLOR,
Blum, Tex.

Nervous exhaustion is a common occurrence of modern life. The wear and tear on the nervous system is greater now than at any time since the world began. For sleeplessness, poor appetite and that "run down" feeling, nothing is so good as
